KGH 4200 Ceramic Gas Heater

Art.-No. 23.323.30

The mobile gas heating appliance needs no chimney connection and can be pursued with customary 5-11 kg of camping gas cylinders. It is planned for the application as an additional stoker in the well ventilated and aired inside area, as well as in the weather-protected undeveloped outskirt area. The heating power can be adjusted in 3 steps from 1.4 kW / 2.8 kW / 4.2 kW.

Importantly! In Germany the device may be used in well ventilated rooms only with 50mbar interior-gas pressure regulator (2 compression dampings, pressure manometres and thermal protection). This interior-gas pressure regulator is as special accessory available.

The generally following regulations are valid for the application of the device:

- Only in well ventilated rooms (durable ventilation and ventilation inevitably) or outside use.
- In leisure vehicles, like caravans and campers, do not use.
- In high rise flats, cellars, bathrooms and bedrooms do not use. It may be used in living rooms not as a long-term heating. The least volume for living rooms amounts to 84 m³, for other rooms 42 m³.

Additional regulations in the given countries of destination are to be followed compelling.
