For the Einhell GC-RM 500 robot lawn mower and all robot lawn mowers from the Freelexo series, the matching "garage" is an ideal supplement: It provides protection against all forms of precipitation, against the blazing sun and against the wet. It is designed to allow for good air circulation and for rainwater to run off, so that the robot lawn mower does not stand in the garage "with wet feet". The shelter for the small garden helper extends its service life because it significantly external influences. The robot lawn mower garage has a hinged cover for easy access. Installation is easy, with the product supplied complete with eight fastening screws.
