The Einhell TE-AP 750 E universal saw makes light work of sawing jobs in a wide variety of materials thanks to its 750 W power rating and electronic stroke speed control for adjusting the tool to the particular material and application. The soleplate needs no tools for adjustment and therefore enables the blade to be used to optimum effect. The saw blade can be changed quickly without the need for any tools. For comfortable and safe operation there is a large soft grip area to ensure that the universal saw always lies comfortably and securely in the hand. The ergonomic and slimline design makes it easy to handle. A saw blade for wood is included.
