A dirt indicator warns at a glance if the pre-filter becomes fouled. The flow sensor is equipped with an LED display. Several safety mechanisms protect against damage to the equipment, including the dry-running cut-out, the scalding and thermal protection, and a pre-filter with non-return valve. The high-quality inlet and pressure connections are of metal construction. In addition, the automatic domestic water pump has an auxiliary second pressure connection and high-quality mechanical seals.
